Building a Community of Belonging in the Church

Thanks to everyone who joined us for A Community of Belonging!

A group of pastors and leaders committed to further understanding sexuality and gender beyond personal identity learned more about the way cultural practices of autonomy and individualism alter our understanding of humanity; the need for self-giving, interdependent relationships; and practical ways they can foster communities of belonging in their churches.

Sankofa at Home

This month, Sankofa at Home offers the chance to explore a number of historic Black churches in Minnesota. In a country deeply divided by partisan allegiances, Christians must unite around a vision for civic engagement that embraces principles derived from scripture rather than party ideology. By elevating biblical principles, we can rise above bitter discourse and division to unite for the flourishing of our society.

Learning to Disagree

April 21, 2024
6:30 PM - 8:00 PM

Christ Presbyterian Church
Edina, MN

Disagreement is hard: we tend to view our adversaries not only as wrong but as evil; we resist notions of forgiveness; we distrust institutions that try to mediate our disagreements. But what if a better way was possible?

Join Anselm House for a dialogue with John Inazu and Sara Groves about John's new book, Learning to Disagree: The Surprising Path to Navigating Differences with Empathy and Respect.
